Have you awakened from a disturbed sleep with all the horrible sensations of an assassi clutching your throat and pressing the life clutching your throat and pressing the life-breath from your tightened chest? Have you noticed the languor and debility that succeed the effort to clear your throat and head of this catarrhal matter? What a depressing influ-ence it exerts upon the mind, clouding the memory and filling the head with pains and strange noises! How difficult it is to rid the nasal passages, throat and lungs of this poi-sonous mucus all can testify who are afflicted with catarrh. How difficult to protect the system against its further progress towards the lungs, liver and kidneys, all physicians will admit. It is a terrible disease, and cries out for relief and cure.

IN ANY ATTEMPT as St. Louis it is inevitable that some should not be reached by the census takers, but never before have matters been so arranged as to facilitate a short count. In a certain degree the blame for this rests upon the census reau, as unnecessary impediments have count, but by far the greater portion of the themselves. A reference to a few of the glaring errors in the system of counting will prove to the citizens how great the danger is that St. Louis will be credited with a much smaller population than it really contains. In the first place, very few single men living in furnished rooms have been captured by the census takers. This applies houses, but hundreds of instances are to be city. The reason of this is to be found, not in questions asked, but to the very lelsquestions asked, but to the very leisurely and unsystematic manner in which the enumerators have gone to work. No child of ordinary intelligence who has attained the age of 10 years would be blind to the absurdity of attempting to secure a full list of Broadway or Olive street employers and employes between the hours of 9 o'clock at night and 5 o'clock in the morning.

IT IS NO LESS ABSURD to attempt to find business men at their sleeping places between 9 o'clock in the morning and 5 o'clock in the evening; but the intelligent census takers have daily made the rounds of dwellings and boarding-houses at hours when it was absolutely certain that the men and women whom they ware seeking were not to be found at their homes. Were the great majority of the citizens of St. Louis bedridden the system pursued by the census takers would be admirable, but as the citizens are not as a rule helpiess invalide, but are on the contrary their homes. Were the great majority of the citizens of St. Louis bedridden the system pursued by the census takers would be admirable, but as the citizens are not as a rule helpless invalids, but are on the contrary active, alert business men, who do not loiter about their homes during the day, the plan is about as effective a one as could well be conceived for depriving St. Louis of the credit of its real population. To a casual observer it would appear that the scheme had been prepared by those whose object was to belittle this city. As every employer of labor, whether clerical, manual or mercantile, knows, by 8:30 a. m. nearly every man actively engaged in business is either at his post or on his way to it. About this time the enumerators begin their house to house canvass. Necessarily the number of those found at their residences is small. Complaint is continually made by those entrusted with the count that great difficulty has been met with in listing men who lived at boarding houses. It has apparently occured to few if to any of the enumerators that these difficulties would practically disappear if they took as much trouble and displayed as much ingenuity to call at hours when those of whom they were in search were likely to be at home as they do to make them visits when they are certain to be clsewhers.

BUT THIS THE ENUMERATORS take care to avoid. A few business men return to their homes for lunch at mid-day, but this very time is generally taken by those to whose care the taking of the census is confided to recuperate their exhausted energies with a hearty meal. By the time that the last of those who have returned to lunch have again betaken themselves to business, the census takers resume their tour. St. Louis is noted as a domestic city. No place of anything like its size contains of few men who dine at clubs and restaurants or so many who eat at their own homes. This fact would seem to give the enumerators agreat advantage over those of other cities in making a complete count, but in very few insta enumerators nearly universally refuse to list the absentees.

THE EXPLANATION GIVEN is that they receive 2 cents each for complete lists, but nothing for those that are incomplete, and therefore if everything that is desired is not ascertained the clitzen is treated as if he did not exist. Information as to where men can be found is not either desired or taken advantage of. A large number of the enumerators have become possessed with the idea that a man has no existence as regards the census, and can answer no questions unless he is found in the immediate vicinity of his bedroom. A large class of domestic servants are thus cut from all possibility of enumeration. Instances are common in which census takers have called at a house, and been given the names of servants who were there during the day, but slept elsewhere, and these persons have have refused to place ou their lists. In vain it has been explained that the servants remain at the houses where they are employed from early morning until long after the cun-derstand that those to be snumerated must be questioned at their houses or omitted entirely from the census. The avoidable loss from this cause amounts to many thousands. In the tenement houses the enuaerators nearly universally call after all the laborers have dispersed to their work, and thus many of the most populous sections of the city are practically wiped out of existence as far as the ceasus is concerned.

persed to their work, and the city are practically wiped out of axistence as far as the census is concerned.

To AN ORDINARY OBSERVER:

It would seem that nowhere should so perfect a census be taken as at the hotels. The hours of meals are known, and from the clerks the names of every boarder can be learned. The advantages thus offered have not been utilized. Instead of calling at hours when those of whom they were in search would be certain to be found, the enumerators have been in the habit of leaving blanks to be given by the clerks to those to whom they were addressed, with the request that they be filled out and left at the office. A very large proportion of those blanks found their way into the weste basket, as the persons to whom they were addressed were inclined to believe that anything that could be treated with such carelessness was not of any particular importance. The returns from the larger hotels are now reasonably complete, as the cierks have expended much time and energy in gratuitously securing information which the enumerators are paid by the government for obtaining. There is general complaint that ground once gone over, especially if a fair amount of success has been met with, is afterwards neglected, and no adequate effort to secure the names of those missed made. The fact that only 2 cents is paid for each name is given as a reason why the waits and strays are not eneractically pursued. The abovementioned instances are only a few of those in which the census has been incomplete, as complaints of carelessness and want of system in other directions are frequently made. Unless steps are taken to radically alter the present faulty system, are frequently made. Unless steps are taken to radically alter the present faulty system, are frequently made. Unless steps are taken to radically alter the present faulty system.

Send in Your Name After Wednesday. The enumerators will hand in their final lists on Wednesday evening, and however imper-fect their work is will then be over and the sum total of their very casual canvass will sum total of their very casual canvass will represent the population of 8t. Louis as officially declared. Any who have not been called upon by an enumerator by 6 o'clock on Wednesday evening are requested to send in their names to the POST-DISPATCH office and State the number of persons in their families. The following subscribers are reported as not yet enumerated:

Justice Patrick Kane, who lives at 127 South Twelfth street, said: "No ceneus enumerator has been at my house yet. There are twelve persons in my family and none of their names have been taken. Mrs. McDonaid, who lives next door to me at No. 130, has not been called on either. There are fifteen persons in that family. I don't believe that any one in the block has been cailed on and it's got the biggest lot of children you ever saw. We don't want to be left out of the census, you can bet."

Charles Osborne of 2652 Pine street says that no census enumerator has called where he lives.

George O'Reilly of 4418 Lucky street called at the Post. Disparch office this morning and complained that his house had not been visited by the census enumerator. There are four persons in his family. He said he did not think that a census enumerator had been in the neighborhood.

J. L. Oberbeck, 4425 Reber place, six in family, have seen no enumerator yet.

Dairy Inspector Tom Kaye claims that he has discovered nine persons living in the neighborhood of 550 Reber place, who have not yet been enumerated. This morning he went to Maj. Weigel's office to lay the facts before him.

The following, who were included in the list of the enumerated citizens, write saying they have discovered that the information was given by other members of the family.

S. L. Hebert, 3527 North Nineteenth street.

Joseph'Stimer, 3518 North Twentieth street.

S. G. Kennedy, 3679 Pine street, says he has not seen an enumerator, and cannot hear of any one else in his block who has. There are eight in his family.

Louis Hammerstein of 1311 Dolman street has not had a visit from any enumerator, and his neighbors have all been spared the trouble of stating their name, occupation, age and other particulars.

of stating their name, occupation, age and other particulars.

In consequence of the action taken by the Post-Disparch, Eliza J. Dillon, Maud Dillon and Arthur J. Dillon, three residents in the city who were refused a place in the censua lists, have been included in it. As the rules are being explained by the Post-Disparch and the newlect of the enumerators exposed. and the neglect of the enumerators exposed, quite a number who had been refused are being accepted.

Enumerator Hickman says that the reported ommission of Frank Hilter, 967 Chambers ommission of Frank Hilter, 967 Chambers street, is erronsous, as he has all the residents of that honse. He says that "the only persons missed" in his territory are young men employed down town during the day and having rooms on this beat. In the list of families overlooked there was mention of J. H. Merrill, 2731/2 Dayton street; W. E. Love, 2716 Dixon street, and Mr. Lane, '3640 Pine street. The enumerators for the districts state they obtained the necessary information from members of the families.

- A PECULIAR SENTENCE.

Arthur English and Mrs. Ryan Fined for Not Answering Census Questions. Judge Thayer decided the case of the United tates against Arthur English for refusing to answer the questions of the census enumerator and fined the defendant $1 and costs, saying that evidently both the enumerato and the defendant were angry when their disagreement occurred, and it was difficult to and the defendant were angry when their disagreement occurred, and it was difficult to say which was the more so. He siso imposed a similar fine upon Mrs. Emma C. Ryan for a similar alleged offense. Mrs. Ryan kepsa boarding-house, and Benj. McMahon, an enumerator, called there to get the list of boarders. Mrs. Ryan could not give the information desired, so McMahon left a blank and told her to fill it out with the names of her boarders. Mrs. Ryan said thut she compiled with the request tand when Medide here to fill it out with the manes of her boarders. Mrs. Ryan said thut she compiled with the request tand when Medide here to fill it out with the wanted; that he wanted all the questions answered in writing. Six told him to leave it again and she would get what he wanted. He made an appointment with her for 2 o'clock the next day, promising to be there at that time to get the slip. He did not come, nor did he call that afternoon, but Mrs. Ryan said that afternoon, but Mrs. Ryan said that at 6 o'diock the next morning he came to the house, walked into it without ringing the bell or announcing him self, and upstairs to the boarders' rooms. He waked them up and pulled them out of bed to answer his questions and then he went to Mrs. Ryan's, a woman's aleeping apariment and knocked at the door to arouse her. She asked who was there, and McMahon said it was he and he wanted her to get up and answer his questions. She told him she would not, and ordered him away from her room. It there had been the ama secund McMahon would probably have been thrown down the stairs, but it was with a helpless woman he was dealing, and finding that he could not get the answers he left and had Mrs. Ryan arrested.

McMahon sidd it was he and he wanted her bed-roome, but he did not deny that he went to Mrs. Ryan's bed-room and roused her out of bed. Tetshe was fined.

basing the estimate upon the showing of the last census, but the number was reduced to 1,500 with the hope that is would insure a speedy and correct census. Chicago's Kick. CHICAGO, Ill., June 16 .- The Daily News this morning prints a number of complaints indicating that the Federal consus, which was practically completed last night, is decidedly practically completed last night, is decidedly faulty so far as Chicago is concerned. The gist of the statements given is that either from lack of time, incompetency or negligence, a great number of families have been left unvisited and that the omissions are possibly of such a wholesale character as to make the enumeration little better than a farce.

MERMOD & JACCARD JEWELRY CO. Corner Broadway and Locust. DUNKLIN COUNTY'S CIBCUIT CLERK.

The Celebrated Case Before the Missouri Supreme Court.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispators.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 16.—The contest over the office of Circuit Clerk of Dunkiln County is again before the Supreme Court. There is a history connected with this case. During January, 1889, Circuit Clark Bragg was suspended for irregularities and Judge Wear suspended for irregularities and Judge Wear appointed J. B. Blackmore temporarily. A few days isser Brage tendered his resignation to Gov. Francis, January 23, and Robert F. Saunders was appointed to fill the vacancy. Judge Wear refused to entertain the appointment, he holding that Brage could not resign while under suspension. Saunders appealed to the St. Louis Court of Appeals, whore an order was obtained compelling Judge Wear to approve Saunders' hond. This order was compiled with, but Blakemore refused to give up the office. A writ of outter was then obtained from the Court of Appeals by Saunders and a subsequent effort to secure an appeal to the Sapreme Court denied. The last move of Blakemore was to ask a writ of prohibition from the Supreme Court to restrain the Court of Appeals from custing blakemore.

WILL MEET IN HARMONY.

PROSPRUT OF THE NUMOOL BOARD FACTION COMING TOGETHER TO-MORROW.

The Meeting Called for Special Purposes an Nothing to Be Lost by Either Side Attending-Necessity of Letting Contracts-Why Book Agents at the Democratic Con-

It is not improbable that the warring fac lone of the St. Louis School Board will come together to-morrow evening and hold a harheld is specially called for the following purposes: To arrange for filling the vacancles in the board caused by Director August resignation and considering the reports of the Auditing, Lands and Leasing, Teachers, Supply, Ways and Means, and Building Com-

As Mr. Miller will appoint a tempory chair man to act in his place, there is no reason why all the directors should not attend, unless they desire to make it evident that they are obstructionists. Nothing can be gained or lost by either party at the special meeting as the business is to be entirely of a routine character and Mr. Miller will temporarily waive the right to preside. While the pro eeedings are pending in court to decide whether or not the organization effected by the Millerites is legal or not, the factions can ford to come together and transact business without influencing in any way the final result. That consideration should at once be given to putting the school buildings in good order for next year and increasing the accomorder for next year and increasing the accommodations is imperative. The work can hardly be done in time in case contracts are not let at once.

Some time ago the building committee appointed by Dr. Auler sent a circular to the principals of all the schools, asking them what repairs would be necessary in the buildings over which they had charge. Replies were received, and were turned over to Architect Singleton. The aggregate amount necessary to have the work required done was estimated at about $40,000. These reports remained in the hands of Architect Singleton until the day on which Mr. Miller's building committee met for the first time, when they were carried off by Director Bosley, the chairman of the Auler building committee. The Miller committee now intends to make a personal inspection of the achools to ascertain what repairs are needed.

MR. CAMPRELL'S BRIEF.

When the application of the Aulerites for an injunction to restrain the Miller faction from soling as a board with only ten members came up in Judge Dillon's souris last Saturday the Judge granted the attorneys a week in which to file briefs in the case. As Mr. Given Campbell, the attorney for the Millerites, did not file any brief up to Saturday evening it was supposed by some persons in school circles to-day that maybe the Millerites in the case to go by default. Mr. Campbell was seen and asked why the brief had not been filed and said that it was simply owning to bis lack of time.

"I have been moving my office," he said, "and was too busy to attend to it."

"Probably to morrow."

THE BOOK AGENTS ON HAND.

In the platform adopted by the Democratic Convention at St. Joseph was a plank declaring the opposition of the Democratic party to book trusts. There was some conjecture among St. Louisans in attendance at the conbook trusts. There was some conjecture among St. Louisnas in attendance at the convention as to whether the presence in the city of several book agents had anything to do with the formulation and adoption of such a resolution. At least four gentlemen who are connected with prominent book concerns were at the convention and mingled considerably among the delegates. One of them was no less than Mr. Dilliman, the agent of Van Antwerp, Bragg & Co., which is probably the largest book concern in the country. When asked by a certain person what he was doing at the convention Mr. Dilliman said that he just happened to get into the city at the same time the convention was being held, and thought he would embrace the opportunity of meeting friends from all part of the State. If the book agents were in St. Joseph for any special purpose, as many who saw them believed, they kept it very dark, and no one was found to whom they showed their hand. They did not, as far as could be discovered, take any part in the context for State Superintendent of Schools, and the convention's declarations against school book trusts was looked on as quite a black eye for them.

Local Pedagogues Like Wolfe.

The principals of the public schools in St Louis, especially those who usually attend the State institutes, express themselves as much pleased with the nomination of D. R. Wolfe for State Superintendent of Schools, Prof. John S. Collins of the Divoll said to-day that Prof. Wolfe would, he was sure, give satisfaction, as he was a practical school mau and well up in his profession, It was Prof. Wolfe's reputation for being practical which more than anything else secured him the nomination. The fact that he was a man who by his record was known to favor only a common school education being given at the public expense was heraided around the convention and won for him many votes, especially among the farmers. Prof. Newland's defeat is looked upon among school people generally as indicating that St. Louis will never be able to have one of its teachers elected State Superintendent as long as the school system in the city is independent of that in the State.

School Notes.

Another meeting of the Teachers Commit-tee has been called for this evening. Owing to the fact that several of the members have been out of the city, several attempts to se-cure a quorum have been failures.

Much amusement was occasioned in School Board circles to-day by the cut and sketch of the new High School building which appeared in a morning paper as one of St. Louis' im-provements. There is no prospect of the school being built, at least for several years.

Summer Exentsions.

An Original-Package Decis WATERLOO, Io., June 16.—Judge Ney has returned a decision in an original-paskage case at Independence, in which he holds that though beer be shipped in cases a bottle of it, if sealed, is an original package. He further holds that a man, to sell original packages, must have them sent to him from outside of the State, and not get them of another person inside the State.

THE CONDUIT BILLS. FOUR OF THEM ENGAGING THE ATTENTION OF THE COUNCIL.

The Lohrum Appointment and the Chanof Confirmation-William Cullinane to Be the Next Selection if the South-End

ters.

Contractor Is Rejected-City Ball Mat-

The four conduit bills now before the Cou cil will give the Assembly an abundance of work before the summer adjournment is taken. The Bell Telephone Co., the Postal Telegraph, St. Louis Conduit Co. and the Subway Co, have ordinances which they are ts own as a matter of course. The Subwa Co. already has a franchise, but its provision are not; entirely satisfactory to the share holders in the concern. The bill was passed nearly two years ago, and company after laying about mile of conduit stopped work apparently abandoned the project. Then there Taylor and Chas, Sutter, representing the Chicago, represented by Mr. Dorsett. The Subway Co. wants the features in the ordinance that it considers objectionable removed, o it can complete the system conduits to carry all the wires. It is also op-posed to the bills of the Telephone Co., the Postal Co. and the St. Louis Conduit Co. If all these franchises are granted the Subway Co. will have few, if any, wires to carry, as it proposes to handle the wires of the companies that are seeking franchises on their own ac-

At the last meeting of the Council the Committee on Public Improvements reported the Bell Telephone and Postal Telegraph bills amended to such an extent that they bore but little resemblance to the original measures. The bills were then iaid over under the rules and ordered printed. Both companies object to some of the amendments and will, it is understood, make a vigorous effort to have them rejected. The representatives of the Subway Co. will in the meantme use all the influence they can bring to bear to kill off the other bills and get their own measure in the shape they desire.

The Public Improvements Committee will hold another session to-morrow afternoon,

To-morrow afternoon the Council Committee on Public Improvements will take up mittee on Fubble improvements will take up the nomination of John C. Lohrum, the Mayor's second selection for Street Commissioner, and decide upon a report. The opinion appears to be almost general that the committee's report will recommend the rejection of the nomination. To-day Mr. Lohrum's friends count on the votes of Councilmen Rohan, Sloan, Vogel, Bensiek, Hooian and Comfort, and say they will work hard to get another to secure the confirmation of the appointee, There is some speculation as to how Mr. Ganahl will vote on the nomination. He is a resident of the southern portion of the city, and it is claimed he owes his nomination and election in a large measure to Mr. Lohrum and other German Democrates in the lower wards, among whom the Mayor's appointee has a high standing. The opinion has been expressed that Mr. Ganahl will vote for the nomination, though he has steadfastly declined to commit himself one way or the other on the subject.

Messrs. Nelson, Metcalfe, Cole, Horton, Meier and President Wolbridge are expected to oppose the nomination.

In the event thes Mr. Lohrum's nomination is rejected the Mayor will in all probability appoint William Cullinane, an undertaker and livery stable keeper, who is prominently identified with Democratic Interests in the Fourteenth Ward. The Mayor, it is understood, has expressed his intention of sending Mr. Cullinane's name to the Council if that body refuses to accept Mr. Lohrum. Many of the Mayor's friends still believe that Mr. Brennan's name will again be submitted.

Re-Leiting Sprinkling Contracts.

To-merrow the Board of Public Improvements will open bids for the sprinkling of the six districts forfeited by the St. Lonis Improved Street Sprinkling Co. The districts are located in the southern part of the city, and as the St. Louis Co. will not offer any bid, the Sprinklers' Association, composed of the contractors who have been fighting Mr. Joseph's company, will have the field to themselves. Since the contracts were surrendered the districts have been sprinkled by thirty-five axtra carts engaged for that purpose by the same of these carts will receive S for each day, and of these carts will receive S for each day, and this will be deducted from the St. Louis Improved Co. 's allowance,

AMONG THE BROKERS. A Fair Market-Stocks Sold and Prices The trading on the Mining Exchange was above the average and prices were good. The advance in the price of Mickey Breen, The advance in the price of Mickey Breen, which commenced on Saturday, continued today; 97½ was bid at the opening but no stock could be obtained until bidding had advanced to $1. At that figure sales to the amount of 600 shares were made, and more was wanted, but as it could not be obtained bidding advanced to $1.02½, at which 100 shares were sold and the market closed.

Central Silver showed an increase in strength. On call the stock was offered at 15, and these offers were readily accepted, 5,000 shares changing hands. Trading closed at 14½ bid, 15 asked.

The Silver Age bonds are being extensively subscribed for, and the stock was decidedly stronger, 200 shares selling at $1.35.

News was received from the American & Nettle to the effect that the recently uncovered ore was looking better than ever. One hundred shares sold at $1.57%, and the stock was offered at $2. The advance in Yuma continued and 500 shares brought 60.

There was no trading on the curb. Samoa was 6½ asked, 5½ bid and $2.22½ was asked for Elizabeth, $2.17½ bid. Skyrocket was offered at 25½, bid 25. Horsfai was offered at 11.

There was some discussion on the floor as to the tenor of the motion to adjourn the after-noon session that was carried last week, some believing that the afternoon session was to be omitted during the races and others holding that it had only been suspended during the week. President Abelse decided that the lat-ter interpretation was the correct one, and therefore the afternoon session was held to-day.

Searching for a Dead Bedy.

Michael Murphy this morning called at Harbor and asked him to assist him with the harbor boat in tile search for the body of his 17-year-old son, Patrick, who was drowned while bathing as the foot of Cherry street a few days ago. Harbor Commissioner Wurphy ascertained that the applicant was sick and destitute and unable to pay any expense that would attach to the search for the body, and for that reason agreed to have the harbor boat attact the supposed to have settled. He instructed out, and if he found it necessary, to explode dynamic cartrides taraise the body of the young man.

Re-Letting Sprinkling Contract:

Charles Beinert committed sufels in the hall of his boarding house, 2006 South Seventh street, Other boarders heard a shot and rushed from their room to find that Reinert had as lines in the reason assigned for the rash act. Reinert left nothing in his room which would give evidence of any mental or financial distributions of the section of the property of the past few weeks he has been out of smployment and seemed in a measure dependent at his failure to secure work. It seems that his affections were not reciprocated and this may have influenced him in ending his existence. It is a somewhat significant fact that he shot himself in the hall directly in front of the room which the young lady co-cupied. The deceased had no triends in this country. His relatives in Austria will be notated at once. The body has been taken to the Morgue. Coroner Frank will hold an inquest in the case to-morrow morning in his Walls' College Dedication, AUBURN, N. Y., June 16.—The beautiful new building of Wells' College for young ladies at Aurora, Cayuga County, the alma mater of Mrs. Grover Cleveland, was dedicated with a ars. Grover cleveland, whi decleased with a song and praise service at 5 o'clock last evening. The President, Rev. I. S. Frisbes, delivered the dedleatory address, and the young lady students of the college took part in the religious exercises. The commencement exercises will be held to-morrow.

ÆGIS, a Shield!

Some time yesterday evening burglars took the trouble to tear away a portion of the wall of the building at 2834 Clark avenue and in this way effected an entrance into the laundry kept by Sam Lee. They were rewarded for their pains by about 35 in small change and several bundles of ciothing.

Lionel as first taken sick last winter at Washing-in, and since then slowly, almost imperpatibly, he has grown worse. This spring is mother took him down to Atlantic City in ceptibly, he has grown worse. This spring his mother took him down to Atlantic City! the neps that the air of the cean might be self him. But the air of the sea, which bring life to so many, only seemed to make Lion worse, and his mother came with him this city. Here she consuited Dr. J. Sol Cohen, and under his care Lional seeme to improve for a time. But about three week ago he began to grow worse. Dr. Cohen recommended the air of the country, and Mr. Burnett took her son out to Wayne. The they have been at the Bellevue Hotel for the passat law weeks, but the change has been cittle benefit to Lional. Since his arrival they he has not been able to leave his room, an the benefit to Lionel, Since his arrival there has not been able to leave his room, ampends the whole day lying on a couch. His there, Dr. Burnett, arrived there yesterday and next Thursday, if Lionel is able to be soved, the whole family will sail for Euope, where, in the south of Germany, the rill try to find the life that caunot be founded. Mrs. Burnett still believes her son will coover. There is no perceptible change is oung Burnett's condition this morning.

THE census roll-call has put the ayes of St. Louis in mourning. Sr. Louis evidently holds a bob-tail flush in the census deal. Sr. Louisans should bend all their energies to correcting the big census blunder.

ENOUGH citizens have been left out of the St. Louis census count to give Missouri another Kansas City.

THE POST-DISPATCH asks the co-oper tion of all St. Louisans in securing a fair show for St. Louis in the census returns.

FACTS are worth any number of explanations and the facts show that the census enumeration for this city is a monstrous

MAYOR NOONAN permits no room doubt that if he wanted an auctioneer he would bar all applicants who could talk

ONLY one more Sunday remains in which want advertisers may secure tickets for the next SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH river

CENSUS or no census, the circulation of the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH is giving splendid proof of the boom in business and population that St. Louis is enjoying.

GOV. FRANCIS may be able to find an indorsement of his administration in the resolutions of the Democratic State Convention if he can find a powerful enough

THE House is approaching the close of its labors on the silver bill, but the debate on the bill will be more interesting when Congress gets through with it than it is now, unless a satisfactory result is

THERE is an excellent prospect that the Mayor will enumerate all the politicians and a large part of the population of St. Louis if he persists in his toolish endeavor to keep a civil engineer out of the office census count sent to the POST-DISPATCH by Wednesday will not only help to correof the census returns, but help to prove the need of another count should it be found appossible to correct them prop-

THE senseless and disgraceful row in the School Board has given St. Louis another black eye in the failure to enumerate the school children. The proportion of State school funds which the city will receive will be based on the school census of five years ago, which is absurdly small for the present time."

THE Census Supervisor contends that of he multitude of persons reporting themselves as missed by the enumerators, many have been enumerated who did not wit. That is possible, and as the Suto and including the 18th, a great or comissions can be filled in the three remaining days. In the meantime a great deal can be done towards completing th census by sending to the POST-DISPATCH the names and address of persons who think the enumerators have missed them.

THE CENSUS BLUNDER.

St. Louis, at least, is plucking the fruit of the folly of Congress and the Census Superintendent in burdening the execution of the constitutional provision requiring the enumeration of the population of the country with a lot of extraneous and unnecessary questions. Whether the evil is confined to St. Louis remains to be seen. It is hardly possible that this city only should suffer, but reports indicate that St. Louis is among the worst sufferers and that her returns will reach the climax of incompleteness and error. This is what chiefly concerns St. Louisans and properly arouses the deepest indignation and disgust.

The entire energy of the census forces should have been devoted to obtaining as near as possible an instantaneous count of the people. Everything else should have been sacrificed to this end, and if Lendon Office, 32 Cockspur Street, Charles Cross. other information was thought desirable it should have been obtained by itself without interfering with the prompt, accurate enumeration of the population. As a matter of fact, however, the population count has been made a mere incident of the census business, and has been sacrificed to a foolish attempt to obtain a mass of information about the private matters of citizens in the interest of sociological statistics which must be stamped as valueless and misleading at the outset. The census work has been made both ridiculous and offensive.

made both ridiculous and offensive.

The law and instructions have been framed so as to invite repulses from the people. The work of the enumerators has been discounted from the start, and they have been overburdened with labor unpleasant to themselves and to the citizens. The pay, while ample enough for a mere count, is too small for a cross-examination of each person. The labor of the work is out of all proportion to the time allowed for it under the system of districting adopted. The only thing which seems to be assured under the census rules is that a large number of citizens shall not be counted.

The result of it all is that a monstrous blunder has been committed, and St. Louis has received the full force of it. No amount of excuses on the part of the district chief or the emunerators can explain away the facts narrated in yesterday's Sunpay Post-Disparch showing constitutions.

away the facts narrated in yesterday's SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH showing conclusively that numbers of St. Louisans have not been counted. The only thing to do now is to make the best of a bad situation. The names and addresses of all persons missed by the enumerators should be sent to the Post-Disparch at once. If the census returns cannot be corrected in this way the authorities may be convinced that the St. Louis census is a failure.

HYLAND KIRK'S CLAIM.

Congressman Springer's Ex-Clerk Denies

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 16 .- Considerable excitement has been occasioned at the home of Congressman Springer by the wide public-ity given to an affidavit of Hyland C. Kirk, filed with Speaker Reed, charging Mr. Springer with unworthy motives in defeating Kirk's claim against the Federal Government. The only person mentioned in substantiation of Mr. Kirk's charge is Aiex J. Jones of this city, ex-United States Consul to Barranguilla, Colombia, and formerly Mr. Springer's committee clerk. Mr. Kirk's affidavit says that Mr. Springer referred him to Mr. Jones, his cierk, with the statement that his measure was a speculative one and that if he expected favorable, action he would have to see Mr. Springer's clerk. Mr. Kirk acted on this advice, and when he told Mr. Jones what the chairman of of the committee had said, Jones said:
"Did Springer tell you that? The robber! I am getting sick and tired of this whole cutthroat business, and I will have nothing to do with its."

am getting sick and I will have nothing to do with it."

Air. Jones pronounced the story utterly untrue in every particular and said:

"The author of the affidavit evidently supposed that I was still United States Consul at Barranguilla, far removed I rom cable communication, and that before my statement could reach the world his malicious charge would have worked irreparable injury to Congressman Springer. Nothing approaching any such a conversation ever occurred. It is true that on one occasion I ejected Kirk from the committee-room for assalling the character of two Republican Congressman, Messra, McKenna and Laidlaw, because they were not sufficiently active in supporting his bill, but that is all. Air. Springer's character needs no encomium of mine, but my statement may not be incomplage if I will say that he was against Hyland Kirk's claim from the beginning, has been for four years, and this, too, in spite of the repeated hreats and attempted intinidations by the army of Washington lobbyiest that favored Mr. Kirk's claim.

Christians regardless of the church to which they or their parents belonged. Speaking on this subject he said:

'I know there are pastors who are apprehensive lest our organization may become a centrifugal force, denuding the church of its power and authority; they think, perhaps, that the organization will draw young disciples away from their aliegiance to their own church. Is not our motto, For Christ and the Church, a refutation of this idea? There is a wide distinction and a difference between denominationalism and sectarianism. The Christian Endeavor movement is a friend to the one and a foe to the other. The former is a quality essential to the life of the great Christian Church, which, though composed of many thrifty branches, are all rooted and grounded on the Rock of Ages through one stately trunk—the Universal Church of Christ. The enthusiasm of the Christian Endeavor movement and denominational zeal and loyalty are altogether compatible in the same heart and life, and when men go to reasoning from so natural a movement that it will impair Christian loyalty, we appeal to facts and ask whether the Congregationalists of New York and those of other denominations connected with the Christian Endeavor MOBILE, Ala., June 11, 1890.

Prayer and singing brought the session to a close. At the there was again a large attendance. Rev. C. Adams offered prayer and Rev. L. L. Green of Boston spoke on "The Sunday-school. Although deeply in earnest, Mr. Green managed to incorporate no small amount of humor into his remarks. He strongly advocated mission work by Sunday-school scholars. The Endeavor Society could bring in many thousand children whose religious education had been badly neglected and lead them out of the pits of despair and darkness into the evangelical fields of light and grace.

Mr. R. P. Wilder delivered an address on the missionary movement, and was followed by Rev. W. H. G. Temple of Boston, Mass., who spoke strongly on the temperance question, and urged every member of the society to sign the total abrithence pledge. He appealed to those who had votes to vote down the ladies to use their influence in the right direction and aid in securing complete emancipation from the alcoholic liquor traffic. The crowd at the was exceptionally large, and the number of visitors present was much larger than the average. There was some very able singing while the great hall was filling up, and service-commenced precisely at 7. By that time the seats were filled, and it became necessary to hold five overflow meetings. President Clark made an address of thanks, referring at length to the courtesies extended to him during the convention. He then called on Mr. William Shaw, who road a series of resotions affirming the non-sectariam stand taken by the Young People's Society of Christian Endeswor and the advisability of increasing the social feeling among members and churches. The resolutions were adopted.

Miss Black of St. Louis then sang "O Galilleo," the vast andience joining in the chorus. The hymn was so exquisitely rendered that the president's request for no applause, owing to the day of the week, was for a moment forgotten.

After a few remarks by Rev. H. A.
Stimson of the Pilgrim Congregational Church, Nev. B. Fay Mills, the well-known young avangelist, delivered a most interesting and earnest address, which was followed by a consecration of experience meeting.
The Lord's Prayer was repeated in concert, the hymn, "God be with you till we meet again" was sung and the ninth international convention of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor was terminated by the pronouncing of the benediction.

The crowd gradualty filed out of the ball, but the President and asveral prominent officers and workers remained behind to exchange thankful congretuations on the grand success of what is by all odds the greatest convention of its kind ever held here or elsewhere.

JUDGE VALLIANT REPUSES TO GRANT A DECREE IN THE ALLEN CASE.

Along Together, but the Court Says They Must Try-Judge Valliant's and Judge Fisher's Enlings - The Union Depot Bar Must Go-Legal Notes.

From the number of divorces granted in the a simple application for a decree is all that is necessary to obtain a legal separation. The laws of divorce are as flexible as my other, but occasionally a judge refuses to grant a decree when there is sufficient grounds for Judge Vallent this morning in the case of Henry J. Allen against Jessle Allen. They were married in July, 1884, in this city. In his the morning and prepare breakfast for him, but would allow him to go to work without his morning meal. She did not have to cook breakfast before her marriage, she said, and she was not going to do so after. she was almost well she went to Eureka was buried, and though teld to come home she refused to do so. cause for complaint was the motherin-law, whom he claimed lived with them and made their lives miserable. She filed a cross bill and in replying to his charges said she did not get up to cook her husband's breakfast at the times mentioned because she was sick. He sent her to a public hospital and when partially recovered she went to Eureka Springs. Her husband sent for her, she said, but did not send her railroad fare and she was unable to return to this city until her relatives sent for her. She said she always treated her husband with kindness and affection but he was not at all kind or considerate. Her mother, she said, did a great deat to keep up the household and help them along. The case was heard last week and this morning Judge Valliant rendered
"The FOLLOWING DECISION:
"This is a suit by the husband against the wife for a divorce, to which the wife has responded by a cross bill against him for a divorce. After hearing all the evidence in the case I am satisfied that there is no reason why this young couple should not become reconciled and resume their marital relations; So far as the evidence discloses the plantiff has no just cause whatever to complain of his wife; she has never been unkind to or neglectful of him.
"On the other hand he is not so free from blame. Still the evidence does not justify granting her a divorce at this time on her cross bill. Under the circum stances, however, I think it would be just to allow the wife to withdraw her crossbill if she sees fit to do so wishin three days, in which event the finding and judgment will be for

Mrs. Allen's attorney, Mr. Henry Watson, says he will withdraw the crossbill, but there is little hope of the young couple ever coming together again.

Peter O'Neil, keeper of the restaurant and lunch counter at the Union Depot, loss his injunction suit this morning in Judge Kiein's injunction suit this morning in Judge Risin's court against the Terminal Railroad Association of St. Louis. For years Mr. O'Neil has held the privileges at the Union Depot by a lease from the Union Depot Co., to whom he paid a rent of $10,000 a year. January 3 of this year the Union Depot Co. joined with six railroads and formed the Terminal association for the purpose of building a new depot and making better terminal facilities. Wm. Taussig, President of the new company, made an agreement with Mr. O'Neil, allowing him the privileges he enjoyed as before at $10,000 per year on condition he would remove the bar or saloon from the depot building on or before April 15 last. Before that date Mr. O'Neil ceased selling liquor except in packages as agreed, but he did not remove the counter of the bar. He changed it to a lunch counter. About May 17 Mr. Taussig sent a gang of men to remove the counter, claiming that the word "bar" in the agreement meant the counter and the liquors, Mr. O'Neil secured a temporary injunction against the company and last Saturday the points were argued. This morning Judge Risin decided that the counter must go. This will give one-third more space to the gentlemen's waiting-room. ourt against the Terminal Railroad Associa jail, Saturday night, died yesterday. The shooting occasioned great excitement and at the time of the Sheriff's death fully 600 citizens deceased Sheriff was well known throughout the State, having served two terms in the Legislature and being a prominent Mason.

THE BOONVILLE TRACEDY.

Great Excitement Over the Murder of Sheriff

After the shooting West was pursued by Marshal Taliaferro and a number of citizens and captured near the outskirts and captured near the outshirts of the town. When the dying Sheriff learned of his murderer's capture and of the howling mob which surrounded the jail he requested that the people disperse. His request was announced to the crowd and had considerable effect on them, many departing from the place. West completely broke down after being placed in jail, and offered to make a full confession. He said that the revolver with which the shooting had been done was furnished him by Wess Hensley of Sedalla on last Friday night, being pushed in through the window of the jail, When Sheriff Cranmer came in to get the dishes after the prisoner's supper, he waited until the door was opened, and presented his revolver at the Sheriff, saying at the same time: "I am going to kill you." Cranmer reached for his wespon but before he could get it out, West had fired. The builet struck him in the left arm, and then penetrated the body and lodged in the kidney. Sheriff Cranmer, after being wounded, fired two shots, but they were without effect. West ren out through the door and escaped. The Sheriff after being 'fatally wounded, locked the doors of the jail, then walked into his room and informed his friends of the shooting.

A Coroner's inquest was held shortly after room and informed his friends of the shooting.

A Coroner's inquest was held shortly after Cranmer's death. Lon V. Stephens, the State Treasurer, was selected as foreman of the jury. West testified that he was serving a six-months' jail sentence for shooting at a brakeman on the Missour! Pacific train at Otterville. He did not intend to kill the Sheriff, he said, but after starting to escape and seeing that Cranmer was prepared for nim, he resorted to the shooting. The jury found him guilty of willful murder, and also neid Wess Hensley, who gave him the revolver, as accessory.

guilty of willful murder, and also neid Wess. Hensley, who gave him the revolver, as accessory.

The killing has created intense feeling all over the county and it is considered very of probable that West will be lynched. Mayor Frankills Swope has issued a proclamation referred to the wish of their dead friend to refrain and all the wish of their dead friend to refrain a from all acts of violence.

The boy Wess Hensley, who furnished West with the revolver, was arrested near Otterville at that place, West knowing that he would be at the winding?

Syears old. While be and West were in jail at that place, West knowing that he would be taken to Boonville, plotted with him to effect his eccape. He told him where he had hidden his revolver and sexed him to get it for him. Hensley did so. He claims, however, that before giving the revolver to West he took all the captridges out of it.

Mr. Smith was asked about ex-Col. Fefrer, a well-known Mexican residing in San Diego, who challenged him to fight a duel two weeks ago. He promptly pronounced Col. Ferrer a lunatic. Commenting upon the visit of Col. E. C. Foster to San Diego, Mr. Smith said:

"Special Agent Foster called upon me and I made a statement as to my connection with the affair. I did not deny that I had discussed a projucy for a revolution in Lower California in the interest of the Maxican Land Colonization Co. There were guns smuggled into Mexican terrisory, but that was two years ago, and it was done through an agent of the old International Co., which organization has been succeeded by the Colonization Co.

"Certainly I do. Maj. Scott may have had half a dozen fill bustering schemes under way for all I know in the interest of his English colonization company, but there would be more sense in revolution. Jou will find that the report of Special Agent Foster will deal entirely with revolution, not with fill bustering schemes. It is my opinion that his report will exonerate all Americans who have been unfortunately mixed up in this affair and that he will deal severely with the English occupants of Lower California who were enxious to bring about a revolution and ast up an independent government.

No Vote Likely on the Silver Bill To-Day-How the Senators Stand on the Measure -Complaint by the Chinese Legation-Gen. Holsbird Retired-Nominations by

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 16 .- It is said that there will be no vote on the silver bill or the pending amendments in ate to-day. Senator Jones the Senate to-day. Senator Jones of Nevada says that several Senators desire to speak on it, including Senators Allison and Woolcott, and that notwithstanding the agreement to close the debate at $5 o'clock no one will be prevented from speaking who desire to do so. He thinks a final vote will not be reached for two or three days. Questioned as to the character of the bill the Senate would pass, Senator Jones answered that it seemed quite probable now that it would be a bill providing for free coinage. He said the effort to secure the piedges of a majority of the Senate to vote against free coinage had been a failure and the inevitable result, he thought, would be the passage of a bill including that feature. A list of Republican Senators favorable to tree coinage included Messrs, Jones, Stewart, Plumb, Ingalls, Mitcheli, Power, Sanders and Cameron. Senate to-day.

They are accused of conspiring together to accused of conspiring together to deprive Postmaster Glison of his revenues and Duckworth is also charged with sesting up an apposition Post-office. They were enemies Duckworth is also charged with sesting up an opposition Post-office. They were enemies of Postmaster Gilson and they wanted to injure him by depicting his revenue and making as poor a showing for his office as possible, so Duchworth opened his rival office and put up a big box, inviting people to deposit their mail in it. They collected all they could and sent it to the mail car until they found out, as they thought, though it was not true that the mail which they put on the car was credited to Gilson, so they began sending it to Kansas City, and every day they sent a man with it to be sure it was mailed in Kansas City and not in Peculiar. Complains were beard from Peculiar about their conduct and Mr. Dice sent Inspector Suilivan there. The result was this arrest.

CHARLES F. VAIL'S CASE. He Announces the Name of His Lawyer

Charles F. Vall went into the Criminal Court

this morning and announced that he had engaged Thomas B. Crews & Son to defend him in the pending trial for murder in the first Judge John L. Thomas-The Trial Not F. McDonald and Julian Laughlin will reappear in the case at the last minute, and that their apparent withdrawal from the acti was a questionable little subterfuge by which they hoped to gain time. The success which attended their effort has been noted several times. Mesers. McDonald and Laughlin were engaged by Miss Laura Vall, the de-fendant's sister, immediately after the young man's arrest. They were at his side when the details of his motives for the murder of his trusting wife came out at the preliminary hearing given him in the St. Charles Circuit Court. When the change of venue was taken to the St. Louis Criminal Court they appeared for the defendant and secured for him general continuances. On May 27 a further continuance was refused them and both withdrew from the case.

JUDGE NORMILE laid the case over until the following day. Then he had Vall brought before him and announced that on June 16 he must appear and furnish the Court with the name or names of the attorneys who would represent him at the witnesses for the defendant's counsel. B. M. Chambers came with his attorney.

Crews. Jr., have ever appeared directly in the Criminal Court, either or associate counsel in any action. Proof of this fact is shown by the court enrollment, the name of neither father nor son having a place on that record. And then, too, Vali himself revealed his intentions when making his announcement to Judge Normile this morning. We stated that he had engaged Thomas B. Crews & Son, "and hoped to be able to obtain additional counsel before his case was called for trial." There is hardly a doubt in the minds of the Four Courts officials and criminal actorneys who have noted the proceedings in this now famous action, but that the "additional counsel" which Vall says he "hopes" to obtain will appear in court on July 7 in the persons of Marshal F. McDonoid and Julian Laughlin.

A MID-DAY BLAZE.

The Store of the Mansur-Tebbetts Farm Implement Co. Burned Out.

The building occupied by the Mansur-Tebbetts Farm Implement Co., at 515 and 517 North Main street, caught fire about noon yesterday and was almost totally destroyed. Officer O'Brien discovered the fire and turned in an alarm which was answered with promptness by the department, but the network of telegraph and electric light wires was so thick that much delay was caused in getting up the ladders and the fire was given a good start. It was not possible to do much towards checking the fiames for some time, but the lower floors were flooded and the downward course of the fiames impeded. Some barrels and cans of oil in the china store of E. F. W. Meler, just south, were ignited by the intense heat but the blazes were drowned out before any damage had been done. A strange explosion occurred in the A. F. Shapleigh Hardware Co. Several firemen were standing on the roof, pouring streams of water on the Mansur building next door, when a loud report was heard, the roof was raised more than a foot and then settled back aimost into its old position. After the fire had been burning about an hour the roof fell and partly smothered the flames, giving the firemen a cliance which they took advantage of and soon the fire was put out. The building, which belongs to hime. Barthold's estate, suffered $8,000 damage and Mr. Tebbetts said that the value of the stock was at least $60,000 or $65,000. that much delay was caused in getting

s herself she is the best race horse in the land. She is probably not in the best of condition, however, and is a doubtful starter. Mr. Haggin may be keeping Salvator's condition a secret so as so get good betting against the coit, feeling sure that he will win, or on the other hand he may not have given the borse any public frial because he has never been in proper condition for one.

Longstreet, Prince Royai, Tea Tray and Fides are all great horses who should not be overlooked. Proctor Knot has been backed heavily, but will probably prove another sad disappointment to his followers. Sir Dixon is also spoken of, but he will not be in it. Cometo-Taw whose chances are frequently mentioned is an over estimated coit and has no chance. Neither has the Badge and Los Angeles is out-classed despite the high claims made for her. Of all the possible starters, English Lady, the speedy Soogan filly, who is in at the light weight of 102 pounds has probably a better chance to win than any. Tenny, Racciand and Salvator excepted. The winner is pretty certain to be one of those three, however. The possible starters, their weights and jockeys, are as follows, though half of these horses will undoubtedly be scratched.

Racciand, 128 lbs. (Garrison); Salvator, 127 lbs. (I. Murphy); Tenny, 126 lbs. (J. McLaughlin); Badge, 126 lbs. (Washer); Sanorita, 120 lbs. (Covington); Los Angeles, 119 lbs.
